After backing upon the bridge it took the main (York-Kiver) track through the yard and was proceeding pretty rapidly when three gentlemen jumped off, two of them Richmond gentlemen, who made narrow escapes. The third and last to jump was Mr. Hugo Steiner, belonging to the Baltimore society, he having, it seems, decided to romain in Richmond a tew days longer. He fell on his face near the Fourteenth-street crossing and was removed to the platform of the depot in an unconscious condition.

When taken up he presented a ghastly sight, owing to the abrasions about the face. Every attention was rendered him by his German friends and others, and he was removed to the Retreat for the Sick by the city ambulance, which was summoned as soon as the accident occurred.

Dr. J. S. Dorsey Cullen was summoned to attend Mr. Steiner, and associated with him were the resident physicians of the institution. The patient remained entirely unconscious during the early part of the evening and great alarm was felt as to the probable result of his injuries. At 11 P. M. he had partially recovered consciousness and Dr. Cullen thought the chances for his recovery were favorable.

Mr. Steiner is apparently about twenty-six years old, and is an attorney and counsellor at law, with his office at No. 16 cast Lexington street, Baltimore, He is unmarried, and is the adopted son of an uncle, Key. A. Kaiser, who was telegraphed OMISSIONS BEING SUPPLIED: Investigating Alleged Errors.

Special-Clerk Ragland and a corps of assistants were busily engaged yesterday in the census office in the custom-house building investigating and verifying the emissions alleged to have been made by the enumerators in their recent rounds.

Mr. Wigglesworth was present on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, and his services were very valuable to Mr. Ragland, largely aiding him in expediting matters.

Mr. Ragland thinks his work will probably be concluded by Saturday night, though this is not certain. The Jackson-Ward enumerators have not quite finished their coavass, but will probably do so this morning.

Mr. Ragland does not think that the number of omissions detected will reach Special-Clerk Ragland and a corps of as-

Delegates Gibson, Ryan, Curtis, Chambers, Senators Stubbs, Echols, Little, and Jordan.

One of the duties of the latter committee will be to report on the sinking of two Maryland vessels by Virginia vessels.

Mr. Ben. P. Owen, Jr., will accompany the committees as stenographer.

A Young Lady's Mind Affected.

Mr. Ragland does not think that the number of omissions detected will reach their charming summer residence, "Wallowship to give the figures as far as he has gotten. In Jackson Ward, where the colored students reported some 800 persons skipped, there have been found to be 131 real omissions. The discrepancy is due to the fact that the students canvassed a part of the districts before the enumerators had gone over the territory.

Mr. Fred. Lax, the flutist, was of course the figure of the evening. He is unquestionably a player of rare order, and the deleacy of tone and exquisiteness of execution which mark his playing were never more apparent than last night.

Mr. Lapini, the violinist, is evidently a capable orchestral-player, but does not possess the qualities of the solo-player. His tone is pure and even, but the soul, the feeling that lies latent among the violin-strings, never responds to his bow, and his phrasing is faulty and uncertain.

REMARKS OF SPECIAL CORRESPONDENTS.

Lynchburg: Rainfall, 0.92 in three days.
Normal rainfall for the week about 0.85 inch. Temperature and sunshine slightly above normal.

Salem: Rainfall 1.53 in two days. Copious rains have helped the corn and grass. Oats pretty well made, but not above an average. The fruit crop (apples and peaches), which is important to this county, is almost a total failure.

Dale Enterprise: Rainfall 2.35 in four days. Thunder-storms frequent, and damaging to corn on Wednesday. Very little of wheat and grass crops secured.

Summit: Rainfall below average and badly distributed. Corn is looking well. Oats have improved, but will be an indifferent crop. Fruit (except berries) a total failure.

Frospect: We have had no rain the past week. Corn and tobacco doing well, but beginning to suffer for rain. Oat crop harvested and short.

Nottoway Courthouse: Rainfall 1.81 in four days. Corn and tobacco growing well, with seasonable rains.

Petersburg: Rainfall 0.30 in two days. Failure of Most of the Crops in Essex and Middlesex—A Gloomy Prospect.

Dunnsulle, July 5, 1830.

Mrs. Bettv Waring, wife of Robert P. Waring, died at her home near here Thursday last at 3 o'clock P. M. Her funeral was preached on the evening of the 4th at 3 o'clock by Rev. F. B. Beale and the body was interred at Tuscarora, the Waring's old family burial-ground. Mrs. Waring was the widow of Mr. John Wright, of King and Queen county, the mother of Mr. B. Wright, of Tappahannock, and sister to Mr. P. T. Woodward, clerk of the Circuit and County Courts of Middlesex county. Mrs. Waring had been an invalid and great sufferer for many years. She was a Christian lady of a meek and quiet spirit and a member of Ephesus Baptist church and; much esteemed by those who knew her.

A DISMAL OUTLOOK.

The bud or some other kind of worm is still preying upon the corn crop. Early cabbage are rotting just where the head joins the stalk, and soon the whole head rots off. Grapes also are rotting as badly as last year and the winter apple, especially winesaps, are dropping rapidly. There will be no crop of them for next winter. The failure in oats, shortage in wheat and grass, and probable great shortage in corn crop has already been reported by your correspondent from Tappahannock. A gloomy prospect indeed it is. The black-berry crop is very good in some places, but picking is not pursued as extensively this year as in the past. They say 12 cents for a water-buncket will not pay, especially when required to share with the owners of the berry-fields, as is in some instances the case.

Mrs. TAILOR DEAD. with seasonable rains.

Petersburg: Rainfall 0.30 in two days.
Corn is doing well, but needs rain. Too dry for vegetables.

Richmend: Rainfall 0.44 in two days.

E. H. Spince,
Shoe and Trunk House,
519 cast Broad street. Mrs. Maria Taylor, wife of Crawford P. Taylor, of Ozeanna, Esser county, died suddenly at 3 o'clock on the morning of the 4th. Mrs. Taylor was in perfect health, apparently, up to a few minutes before her death, which was caused by some affection of the heart. Mrs. Taylor was the daughter of ex-Judge Joseph Christian and a truly lovely and most estimable lady was she. Her death is a shock to the entire community in which she lived, as she was highly prized as wife, mother, neighbor, and friend. She had been married only some four years and settled in our midst, but in that short time had endeared herself to all around her. Death truly loves a shining mark.

While in Europe Miss Davis spent three delightful months at Rome, Venice, and Nice, and the remainder of the time at Paris, "Miss Davis was ill a couple of days," said a friend at the depot this afternoon, "but aside from that she enjoyed the voyage very much." She spent most of her time reading, the friend said. Miss Pavis is an enthusiastic and interested reader, and is consequently one of the best-read women in this country on social and political subjects.

A NOTABLE EVENT. The marriage of Miss Davis, the Daughter of the Confederacy, and Mr. Wilkinson will be the more notable because it will unite the Daughter of the South to the grandson of the late Rev. Samuel May, who was one of the central figures before the war in the cause of Abolition. He stood shoulder to shoulder in the cause with Carriage Woods! Eviliage and Long.

Just when her marriage to Mr. Wilkinson will take place is not known, and neither of them would mention any date, although when spoken to about it Mr. Wilkinson said he did not think that it would be much before this fall, and maybe not until this winter. He spoke of September later on, but said nothing was certain, hence no day has been set. The ceremony will probably be private, and will more than likely occur at Miss Winnie's home at Beauvoir.
